Step 1 of 5 - Change Type

What would you like to do?*

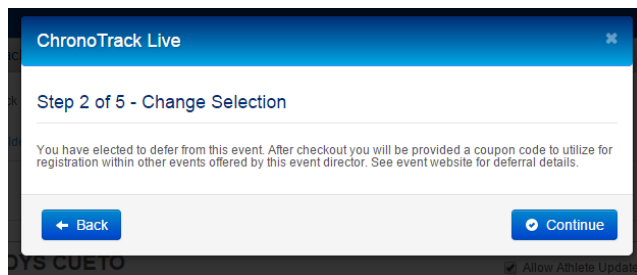

Change to another race.

A race change allows you to switch from your current registration choice to another. You will be responsible for paying the difference between the registration choices as a fee set by the event director.

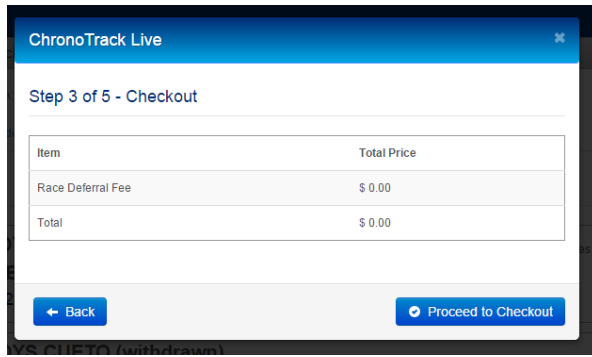

Defer my registration for another event.

A deferral will withdraw you from this event but provide you with a coupon code that can be used in another event as specified by the event director. You will not be refunded and the price of the deferral coupon code is set by the event director.
